2026 WINTER SCHEDULE

Handbuilding - Wheel - Classes & Workshops

Wheel Classes

Intermediate Wheel Series $350

With Ashley Dodd

Tuesday Evenings: 5:30 - 8:30

Feb 3 - Feb 24 & Mar 10

5 Sessions

Adults & Teens 16+

This 5-session class is designed for potters who already have some familiarity with the wheel and are ready to expand their skills. We'll refine core techniques such as centering, pulling consistent walls, and trimming with intention, while also pushing into more challenging forms and improving overall control. Students can explore shape variation, matching sets, taller forms, or more complex profiles based on their personal goals.

Beginner Teen Wheel Series $350

With Triana Bojarski

Sundays Evenings

Feb 22 - Mar 15 & Mar 29

5:30 - 8:30

5 Sessions

Teens 13+

This pottery class is an introduction to throwing on the wheel for teens. Participants will learn the fundamental techniques of centering, pulling, shaping, trimming and glazing clay to create their own unique pieces. With hands-on guidance, teens will learn the basics of pottery in a relaxed and fun environment.

Studio Buzz: Big Plans at Cranbrook Arts!

In January our art workshop and pottery studio will be closed as we have big plans brewing. We will be doing a "studio swap" renovation to give our spaces a much-needed refresh. This means swapping our current pottery and art workshop spaces, updating equipment, and setting up the studios so they work better for both art and pottery classes. While it's a bit of change, it's all in service of creating a smoother, more comfortable space for everyone.

We're especially excited to welcome class members into the newly set-up studio once the work is done. With the new layout, we'll be able to increase capacity in our wheel classes. Soon more folks can join in the wheel throwing fun!

And a huge thank you goes out to the BC Arts Council for making this renovation possible through their Infrastructure Grant. Their support allows us to keep growing and improving our creative spaces.

We can't wait to share the new studio with you!
